

The diagram illustrates a page layout with three distinct regions. A large magenta rectangle represents the full page with bleed, measuring 7.6875" x 11". Inside this, a green rectangle represents the type-safe area, measuring 6.6111" x 9.75". A vertical dashed line within the type-safe area is labeled 'COUPON AREA'. A magenta line on the right side of the page indicates the approximate trim line on the final book. Three colored lines (blue, green, and magenta) point from the text descriptions to their respective areas in the diagram.
